

GOLD DIGGER BACK AT THE OLD HOME

Mr. B. J. Savage, Who Went to the Klondike Twice, Buys Rainey Tract.

HAS A PECULIAR PROBLEM

Winston Mayor Hardly Knows What to Do With Its Helpless Criminal.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
WINSTON-SALEM, N. C., January 26.—The old Rainey tract of land, near Germantown, N. C., was sold recently to Mr. B. J. Savage. There were 440 acres in the tract, and the purchase price was $20 per acre. Mr. Savage also bought two other tracts adjoining. His history is of some interest. Several years ago he went to Alaska, and his ventures in the Klondike region proved quite successful. He accumulated a good fortune. A few years ago he returned to this country and married the woman of his choice, returning soon afterwards to Alaska. The climate did not agree with Mrs. Savage, and they moved back to their native State. It is understood that Mr. Savage will reside in Germantown. He has a great many friends who are glad to welcome him and his wife back to their native State. The Mayor of Winston is up against a difficult problem in the case of Bob Jarrett, a blind negro, who persists in retelling whiskey without license. Green-horn officials are in the same boat with a negro who has lost both legs, and gives no end of trouble by retelling the ardent spirits. Both transgressors have been sent to jail. While reformatory is being advocated for youthful transgressors, the Solons at Raleigh will have to scratch their heads over a law to satisfactorily dispose of this class of lawbreakers. They cannot work, and to send them to jail and feed them is more of a blessing than a punishment.

The two members of the Salvation Army station here are doing their part to get humanity to think on the brighter and better side of life. The open-air service at night attracts an audience, for the couple are exceptionally good singers and talkers. The army has opened up a permanent home here.

To Have Horse Show.
During the coming spring an attraction in the Twin-City in the way of a horse show bids fair to be realized. The preliminaries are under way, and from the "Sign of the Times" full and complete announcements can be expected at an early day. It will prove a great attraction.

Prof. J. T. Bennett, of AOK Ridge, Guilford county, has discovered an exceedingly fine amethyst mine on his place. Some years ago an amethyst was picked up there by a student, out of which $160 worth of stones have been cut by a New York diamond cutter and sold, and $40 worth of stones reserved. This is perhaps the most valuable amethyst ever found in the State.

Mr. Cabell Harston, the owner and promoter of the coal mining industry on "Fawn Fork Creek" near Walnut Cove, announced that these valuable mines will be developed as quickly as machinery can be placed in position. A strong company having been formed which means business. Mr. Harston says he used the Fawn Fork creek in his home all the while, and that it is of a fine quality.

Mr. H. H. Shore, secretary, has issued a card to the many friends of the late Charles W. Davis, singing master of Abbott's Creek, Davidson county, requesting that funds be gathered by the many churches and friends he taught for the erection of a monument to his memory over his last resting place. In Abbott's Creek graveyard during the month of May, Mr. William A. Helper, of Jemerville, N. C., has been chosen treasurer.

Mr. W. S. Pohl, has prepared a map of Forsyth county, giving all the towns, schoolhouses, churches, creeks and railroads. It is most valuable for reference in office, school and home.

Had Narrow Escape.
Rev. D. A. Binkley, pastor of the M. L. Church at Dagbury, had a narrow escape from fatal injury near Walnut Cove a few days ago. He was on his way to the station when he was struck by a car. He was thrown from the car and his head and face were injured. He was taken to the hospital, but after a few days he was able to return home.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
SPENCER, N. C., January 25.—A box party, held under the auspices of the Spencer Railroad Young Men's Christian Association, was largely attended here last night. Under the direction of the ladies' handwork league, boxes, prepared for the occasion, were sold at auction. Captain Ed Smith, engineer on the Spencer-Greenville division of the Southern, acting as auctioneer. FATAL FIRE PRECEDES THEIR MARRIAGE

All Preparations for Beautiful Entertainment Given Up When Bride's Home Burned.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
HURT, VA., January 25.—Near this place, at the home of Mr. Thomas C. Greaves, at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon, Mr. Rudolph H. Frederickson, of Blackstone, Va., and Miss Mary Florence Polard, of Clover, Va., were united in marriage by Rev. J. R. Sturgis.

The bride is one of the charming daughters of Mr. and Mrs. James M. Polard, of Clover, Va. A marriage in the beautiful home of the bride's parents, or in the church nearby, with all the features and functions of a brilliant public event, had been anticipated until a few weeks ago, when a fatal fire not only destroyed the cherished home with all the holdings of family effects and treasures, but demolishing a life also, a son and brother died from the effects of his pitiless burning. It was because of the nearness of shadow of this sad death, that the marriage ceremony was quietly celebrated at the sister's home, with only the nearby kindred and relatives present.

In the necessary absence of the father, the bride was escorted to the altar and given away in marriage by her brother-in-law, Mr. T. C. Greaves. Miss Josie Greaves acted as both maid of honor and ring-bearer. Mrs. T. C. Greaves, the fair young sister of the bride, presided at the piano; the parties entering to the subdued music of a wedding march, while soft strains of another selection, harmoniously accented and underlaid the marriage ceremony.

The groom is a prosperous real estate dealer and agent in Blackstone. He is deservingly held in high esteem, both as a progressive business man and as a man of solid qualities and sound integrity. The young couple will spend their honeymoon in Washington, D. C., and other places of interest. They will make Blackstone their home, and will be at home to friends after the 25th instant.

CHILD FALLS IN FIRE: IS SERIOUSLY BURNED

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

HAVE TO NAME ANOTHER JUDGE

Judge Aiken Will Not Sit in Strother Case Unless Again Designated.

MRS. BYWATERS IMPROVING

Expected That Young Widow Will Be Able to Testify When Trial Begins.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
CULPEPPER, VA., January 26.—Judge A. M. Aiken, of Danville, Va., who was the presiding judge in the Bywaters-Strother case when the grand jury returned their findings in the matter of the indictment of James F. and Philip J. Strother may not longer be the judge to try the defendants. The law providing that when a judge of a county is pending in a Circuit Court of a county, that the Governor may, under the State law, to designate some judge to try the case, and this matter was only pending in the Circuit Court here after the grand jury had returned its indictment against the Strothers. So either Judge Aiken or some other judge will be appointed by Governor Claude A. Swanson to preside at the trial, when these facts are made known to him. It is understood that the regular judge, Hon. Daniel A. Grimsley, of this circuit, will not conduct the trial.

Mrs. Bywaters Better.
Mrs. Viola Strother Bywaters, the widow of Mr. William Bywaters, is still ill and confined to her bed, but it is now thought probable that she will be well enough to testify in the case on February 21st, the date fixed by agreement of the circuit judge and counsel on both sides for the case to be heard. The trial of this case will be the most interesting, as well as one of the most important criminal trials in the history of the old county of Culpepper, both sides of the controversy belonging to the best social and business connections in the community.

CANNOT REACH FIRE IN INKULA

Much Cotton Taken Out, But Heat So Great Men Had to Desist.

STEAMER AT NEWPORT NEWS

Storage Cheaper There and Further Attempts Will Be Made to Unload Her.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
NORFOLK, VA., January 26.—Fire still burns in the hold of the British steamship Inkula, which yesterday raced back here from sea.

Efforts to extinguish the flames have so far been unavailing although tugs and the ship's own boilers have released quantities of steam into hold No. 1 of the ship, in which the fire is confined. About 2,600 bales of cotton are in the hold.

An effort was made to take the cotton from the hold, but that was found impracticable. About 400 bales were taken out. Fifty of these were what burned. The fire then became hot that the men could no longer stand and were forced to leave the hold. The hatch was again battened down and steam was again turned into the hold.

The shipping firm of Furness, Withy & Company, doing business at this port and at Newport News, have been appointed agents for the Inkula. They ordered the ship to Newport News at 2 o'clock this afternoon, where another effort will be made to discharge the cotton from hold No. 1.

The reason given for the taking of the ship to Newport News was that storage-room for the discharged cotton could there be obtained without cost. Efforts, it was said, to secure room on this side were met by what was considered high prices.

It looks as if the fire might be a hard one to conquer, and as if much cotton may be burned.

It is improbable that the ship will again sail for Liverpool in less than a week.

HEAVILY FINED FOR DISORDERLY CONDUCT

Man Also Arrested on Charge of Being a Suspicious Character.

In the Police Court yesterday Frank Ray, a white man, presumably about fifty years old, was fined $20 for being disorderly on a street car, and was placed under security in the sum of $300 for his good behavior for six months.

Ray was arrested at the instance of Captain A. B. Guigon, attorney for the Passenger and Power Company, who heard him using profane language on a Main Street car. The car was half filled with ladies at the time. Colonel H. M. Boykin was also a witness against the man.

After the fine had been imposed the charge of being a suspicious character was lodged against Ray. He went to the office of the Passenger and Power Company a few days ago and represented himself to be the street railway lines in Minneapolis and St. Paul, and said that he would like to visit the plant of the company. Later he wanted a pass over all of the lines.

When arrested by Detective Gibson, Ray said that he had just got in the city from Norfolk. He told Heintz, the barber in the Allen Hotel, that he was a social artist, and tendered the tonorial artist a card which bore the name of Artileux T. Hinery. Captain Guigon was in the barber shop at the time and his suspicions were aroused.
